This is really obnoxious. I think you should forward to David and ask if she can be disciplined.

On another note, how would she know who's an adultress?

Respectfully,

If there's any doubt in your minds that this umass employee has usurped your authority, and that the 4th floor foodborne dph employees believe she's in charge of them not you.

not to mention the games she is already playing with Garry about FERN scheduling him to do training in Sept. when you havent given him the common courtesy to announce a time he will be in his new position (while everyone knows you are frantically reconfiguring the position he rightfully transferred to for the adulteress so you can cut him out of food, FERN and PFGE Labs supervision)
